LSC Executive English - helping you do business in English

International executives need English as a tool, not as a subject of study. LSC Executive English courses do not just teach business English, they help professionals do business in English.

LSC Executive English courses are completely student-focused and focus on skills such as communication skills, meetings, presentations and negotiations and on work-related contexts, such as IT, Marketing, Human Resources and Finance.

The course materials we use are relevant to the student or work sector.

LSC Executive English courses use interactive techniques, including simulation, case study, problem-solving, coaching and mentoring.

We carefully select Executive English teachers so that they have 'real world' experience and expertise. This helps them deal with the specific needs of students.

Which course?

LSC Standard Executive English is an excellent choice for executives who want to improve all aspects of their professional English.

LSC Premium and Gold Executive English are for executives who want to achieve specific desired outcomes to increase their personal value
